First tee shots reenacted at Sheridan Park Course's 90th anniversary

by CHITRA SELVARAJ
Editor

The Town of Tonawanda and the Sheridan Park Golf Club celebrated the 90th anniversary of the municipal Sheridan Park Golf Course on Friday, May 12. The ceremony began with the pledge of allegiance led by Town of Tonawanda resident and World War II veteran Dr. John Long, followed by reenactment of the ceremonial first tee shots of 1933.

Supervisor Joseph Emminger reenacted the ceremonial first tee shot at the 90th anniversary celebration of the golf course.

Town Supervisor Joseph Emminger, Councilman Carl Szarek, seven-time club champion Bill Linder, Jim Mohan of the Buffalo District Golf Association and current club champion John Haberman Jr. were among the participants who teed up on the club's legendary first hole. President of the Sheridan Park Women's Golf Club Jean Walter, Sheridan Park Golf Club President Mike Zimmer, club historian and former club President Jim Duggan, Emminger and Szarek spoke a few words in honor of the anniversary. "The municipal course first opened on May 13, 1933, and the Sheridan Park Golf Club was formed at the same time. The women's club was formed the following year in 1934," Zimmer said. When the course opened in 1933, the first group of players were Tonawanda Supervisor Roy Brockett, Town Clerk Roscoe Rossner and Town Highway Superintendent Henry DeWitt.

Originally opened as a 9-hole course, in the 1950s the club worked with the town to make improvements to the course and transformed it into an 18-hole course. "It's a very challenging course with a lot of water hazards and is very hilly in the back, especially on the last nine holes. It's very unique for a municipal course. Brighton course is a lot flatter, with a few elevation changes. Sheridan Park course is very challenging, so you know you have played well if you have a good score playing here," added Zimmer. Duggan, dressed in a vintage-style golf outfit typical of those worn in the 1930s, addressed the attendees. "I had a senior moment," he said. Talking about the ninth hole he continued, "I used to be able to hit the driver with a 7 iron. Now I have to hit it with two 7 irons. Since they moved the tees up, I can now hit it with a 7 iron again. It makes it more playable and enjoyable." Duggan then referred to the changes that the town made to move the tees forward, which reduced the length of the course by 1,000 yards, making it more playable for those who find it difficult due to either age or other reasons.

"This course is one of the most challenging in Western New York, and shaving 1,000 yards off the standard white tees makes the course more enjoyable for a wider range of golfers," said Zimmer. He called the new tees "the Fountain of Youth" because they allow older players who have lost distance and golfers with slower swing speeds to enjoy the unique and challenging layout in a whole new way.

Also in attendance were teams from the Kenmore East Bulldogs, Kenmore West Blue Devils and St. Joseph's Collegiate Institute Marauders. At the ceremony, modern-day versions of the original black and white photos were recreated.

"With the forward tees, it's a whole new experience, and if you haven't played in a long time, come back and try it," said Zimmer.

History of the golf course

A few months after Franklin Delano Roosevelt was sworn in as president of the United States, the Sheridan Park 9-Hole Golf Course had its grand opening on May 13, 1933. The course was designed by William Harries, who was the only local person making a career out of golf course architecture between World War I and World War II. The Sheridan Park course cost $1 million to build back in the early 1930s. Harries also designed several other local golf course layouts, including the town's other 18-hole golf course, Brighton Park Golf Course, Byrncliff, Brookfield and Audubon.

The opening ceremony was celebrated by a parade led by the Kenmore High School band and included Town of Tonawanda officials, American Legion Brounshidle Post, the Lions and Rotary clubs of Kenmore, and the Kenmore Merchants Association.

The first person to play the course was the first president of the Sheridan Park Golf Club, Louis M. Dietrichler, while Ganson Depew, president of the Buffalo District Golf Association, drove the first ball. In 1933, the cost to play the 9-hole course was 25 cents on a weekday, 50 cents on a weekend and $5 for a season pass.

In 1955, the club encouraged the town to redesign the course, transforming it into an 18-hole course, among other improvements, with the aim of hosting the United States Golf Association National Public Links Tourney, which the town hosted in 1961. In July 1962, the USGA staged the U.S. Amateur Public Links at Sheridan. Richard Horace Sikes joined the PGA Tour in 1964, winning the Sahara Invitational that year, which earned him Golf Digest's Rookie of the Year Award.
